Mr. Krabbenhoft expressed his desire for the Commission to address several items discussed, including tariff impacts and impacts on federal funding cuts on SNAP-Ed and other programs. Mr. Flakoll indicated that Commission members have the option to opt in or opt out of being signatories, if desired.

5. Food Access 101

Ms. Tweet provided a brief informational overview of food access from the Great Plains Food Bank. She stated that the Great Plains Food Bank has three goals: ending hunger today by filling immediate needs, ending hunger tomorrow by tackling the root causes of hunger, and ending hunger for good by constructing a future where hunger doesn't exist. She informed the Commission that the Great Plains Food Bank operates nine programs to recover and distribute food, with over 2,000 volunteers and 200 partner food pantries, shelters, and soup kitchens in North Dakota and Clay County. She stated that more than 100,000 individuals are served each year. In 2024, 5.5 million pounds of food were distributed, which helped to prepare 4.6 million meals and 289,000 congregate meals. Additionally, 9.8 percent of individuals in the Great Plains Food Bank service area were food insecure, with 9.5 percent of individuals in Cass County and 11.7 percent of individuals in Clay County being food insecure.

6. Food Pantry Experience Panel

Mr. Beil led a panel discussion with area food pantry professionals, including Chelsi Bormann of West Fargo Eats, Ron Ellingson of Peace Lutheran Church Food Pantry, and Shania Alder of REACH. Each shared information on the operations of their food pantries, intake processes, the variety of food and on-food items available, and the different ways clients can receive their food.

7. Homelessness and Hunger

Chandler Esslinger, Director of the FM Coalition to End Homelessness, provided the Commission with information regarding homelessness and hunger in the FM area.

Ms. Esslinger stated that 1,050 people are homeless on any given night in the community, a five percent increase since 2023. She explained that this includes people who lack a fixed, regular, and adequate nighttime residence, including those whose residence is a shelter or transitional housing program, those living in unstable and non-permanent situations, and those forced to stay temporarily with family members because they have no other place to stay. She informed the Commission on the five pillars of the homelessness response system, including: outreach and coordinated entry, emergency shelters, supportive housing and rapid rehousing, affordable housing and stabilization, and homelessness prevention and diversion. She also provided information on a newly formed Cass Clay Interagency Council on Homelessness that is intended to offer a regional framework rooted in state and federal best practices in ending homelessness.

8. Public Comment Opportunity

Chair Nesemeier informed the Commission that time would be allotted for public comments. She noted that members of the community may also submit comments via a comment link when Commission packets are emailed out.

Mr. Altenburg informed the Commission that Janice Tweet, current chair of the steering committee, has accepted a new position and would be stepping down from her role. Commissioners and steering committee members thanked Ms. Tweet for her work and dedication to the Cass Clay Food Partners.

9. Future Meetings and Commission Action Steps

FY24 SNAP-Ed Impacts

About our program: The Family Nutrition Program (FNP) serves as North Dakota's Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Education (SNAP-Ed). - Increase their consumption of fruits and vegetables
- Engage in more physical activity
- Stretch their food dollars in a healthful way

FNP's outreach efforts support policy, systems and environmental (PSE) changes, fostering environments that encourage healthy choices and active living among participants.

SNAP-Ed Makes Minnesota Healthier

SNAP-Ed staff provide nutrition education to Minnesotans of all ages, empowering them to stretch their food dollars, eat healthy and be physically active. We also work with community partners to make movement and nutritious food more accessible to low-income families at daycare and childcare centers, parks, community gardens, schools, clinics, grocery stores, food banks, farmers markets and more.

In 2024:

5,673

SNAP-Ed participants reported increased physical activity; and

756

partners worked with SNAP-Ed to create community-level changes that help

173,702

Minnesotans across the state make healthy living the easy choice.

SNAP-Ed Delivers Results

After participating in a direct SNAP-Education program:

56%

of youth increased their healthy eating behaviors

84%

of adults increased their healthy eating behaviors

45%

of adults reported eating more fruits and vegetables in a day

35%

of adults increased the number of days they did physical activity

63%

made small changes in physical activity 3 or more days a week

"Seeing the looks on people's faces when they try new foods, learn how to ride a bike or watch birds — that's what this program is all about; new experiences, new joy."

– Luan To,
Metro Men and Fathers program participant

"The walking program was transformative. I experienced improvements in my physical and mental health. Connecting with nature gave me clarity and renewed energy."

– SNAP-ED Walking in Nature program participant

"For me it has inspired me a lot. I want to educate my children from an early age to learn how to eat healthy and take care of their immune system."

– Rosa,
Health and Nutrition program participant

Background

The Minnesota SNAP-Ed program runs through the Department of Children, Youth, and Families.

The implementing agencies include:

- University of Minnesota Extension
- Bois Forte Band of Chippewa
- Fond du Lac Band of Lake Superior Chippewa
- Grand Portage Band of Lake Superior Chippewa
- Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe
- Lower Sioux Indian Community
- Mille Lacs Band of Ojibwe
- Red Lake Nation
- White Earth Nation

SNAP-Ed Builds Healthier Communities

Drawing on their deep, embedded relationships with Minnesota communities, our expert SNAP-Ed staff develop innovative ways to reach families. They translate evidence-based insights into tailored programs and initiatives, such as:

- Growing the halal food supply chain in St. Cloud, making culturally appropriate foods available and affordable
- Hosting joyful double-dutch SNAP-Ed programming for Black youth in Brooklyn Center
- Mobilizing partnerships and Garden in a Box, a hands-on community garden program that engages families in conversations on health, financial planning, parenting, and nutrition

76 SuperShelves

The SuperShelf is a complete transformation of food shelf operations: expanding stocked items, designing layouts to resemble grocery stores, retraining volunteers, and shifting language from “clients” to “shoppers.” In 2024, SuperShelves served 57,000 people in 42 Minnesota counties and certified 18 new sites, bringing the total to 76.

Military Veterans Lead Peers to Walk Towards Wellness

Extension staff partnered with the Beyond the Yellow Ribbon Central Minnesota Warrior to Citizen group to tailor the “Walk with Ease” program to military participants. The peer leaders bring veterans and military service members together to walk, build community and strengthen body, mind and spirit.

USDA’s GusNIP Veggie RX Grant

Extension partnered with the U of M Arboretum, Carver and Scott County, and other local partners to offer produce prescriptions (Veggie RX) for patients with diet-related health conditions. The 100 participants picked up these locally grown vegetables at two clinic sites for 16 weeks in the summer of 2024. SNAP educators were on hand to answer questions and provide nutrition and cooking education.

Economic Impact of U of M Extension SNAP-Ed

The elimination of the SNAP-Ed program would result in implementing agencies losing staff and program capacity. University of Minnesota Extension’s SNAP-Ed $7.25 million award for FY25 pays for 70 SNAP educators. The loss of these programs and educators would be felt by SNAP participants and communities across the entire state, including farmers who grow and sell fresh fruits and vegetables at markets that accept SNAP benefits.
